ROCKY MOUNTAIN RIDING IS WORLD'S WONDER PLAYGROUND

By BERT HUFFMAN

The art galleries of the world are filled with matchless paintings of the Canadian Rockies. Libraries teem with written descriptions of these stupendous natural wonders. But neither paintings nor words can fully portray the 225 miles of tumbled chasms of frowning peaks, shadowy gorges, abrupt peaks and mountain walls, and hidden glaciers which constitute the western boundary of the Rocky Mountain electoral riding in the province of Alberta.

For 225 miles, from South Kootenai Pass, within eight miles of the Montana border, to the foot of Mt. Thompson, towering 10,109 feet above the sea, in latitude 51 degrees 40 minutes north, the western boundary of Rocky Mountain riding follows the continental divide, from peak to chasm, in a great semi-circle of grandeur, ending to the northwest.

Fifth in size to the square in lies in Alberta, the Rocky Mountain riding contains approximately 4,500 square miles of land, which reduced to more detailed figures means 125 townships, or 2,380,000 acres of land, only one-half of which has yet been surveyed.

The ridings of Edson, Clearwater, Grouard and Athabasca, are larger than Rocky Mountain. But in point of grandeur and natural wonder, no other spot on the earth compares with this mountainous electoral division of the earth. In the heart of it are located Banff, Lake Louise, Bow and Clearwater lakes. Crow's Nest Pass and Lake—all world famous regions which attract tourists from the ends of the earth. Twenty rugged, large enough to be charted and named on all maps find their sources in the colossal heights of the Rockies.

These crystal streams which flow eastward to fertilize and bless the expansive prairies, are the Red Deer, Burnt River, Panther, Fairview, Little Red Deer, Cascade, Pipestone, Bow, three branches of the Old Man river.

Eight well defined and separate mountain ranges, or subsections of the main chain of the Rockies, are wholly within the boundaries of the riding. These are the Sawback range, Palliser range, Goat range, Kananaskis range, High Rock range, Livingstone range, High Rock range and Flathead range. Each of these smaller ranges are magnificent, and each range as some of the most famous old-world mountain systems, and each separate range deserves and extends to a complete description in itself.

Mount Thompson forms the northwestern corner post of the riding, and its peak, a height of 10,000 feet above sea level, is an everlasting landmark set at the limits of the riding. Beyond it, Mt. Thompson the north boundary runs in a straight line 66 miles to meet the ridings of Olds and Cochrane. Thence south for six miles the boundary there encounters the first stakes and corner posts of surveyed land in the farthest western foothill district.

Here the line is jugged eastward, two miles, for some unknown reason, then straight south to latitude 51, north, to a point directly west of Calgary.

Then the whim of the map makers turned the boundary eastward again until it reaches within 18 miles of Calgary's white-hot streets as thought the mountain longed for a fragment of the distorted works of man!

Southward again, hugging the foothills as a fond mother embraces a wayward child, the boundary of Rocky Mountain riding runs across Alberta's famous purple foothills, purple-clad and green in their verdure, for 132 miles, veering 18 miles eastward, to leave out a nook of farming land here and there, and to keep its matchless mountain grandeur intact, to the place of beginning.

From the tip top peaks which stand as sentinels on our western border, it is possible to see the greatest wheat belt in the Dominion—the undulating

Horses Run Over Track Speeder And Injures Railway Employees

Three Men Hurt in an Unusual Accident at Railway-Crossing Just East of Town

Three employees of the Canadian Pacific railway had an unusual and painful experience Monday night while crossing the tracks at a railway crossing just east of town. The track speeder was run over by a herd of horses on the first crossing east of town, the men knocked off the speeder and painfully injured. The men were: R. Pierson, boiler inspector, sustained broken collar bone. His assistant, badly shaken up. A. Balazs, pumpman at Patricia, in Bassano hospital badly bruised and injured.

It was dark when the men left Patricia but all went well until they reached the crossing east of town. Just at this point the horses struck them. It seemed that the men had been thrown from the speeder and they galloped right over the speeder, knocking men right and left. It was a badly battered trio that reached Bassano in search of medical assistance. It is not known who owned the horses.

School Expansion Fails To Overcome Crowding

Swarms of Students From All Over Uppst Plans of School Board

Just when the school board was sitting back all smiles over the solving of the overcrowding problem at the school by adding two rooms, school opened Tuesday and the trustees got a bad jolt.

About 225 pupils swarmed into the school and Principal C. H. Wilson, chairman of the board, suffered a relief when he heard the news. Being informed that the overcrowding was caused by dozens of children from outside families that have come to Bassano to give their children an education, he issued an ukase that these newcomers be requested to return home.

This raised a storm that made Chairman Wilson wish to know the definite policy. Brodus, the definite policy. The teachers are: B. F. Cryderman, principal, Miss Hazel Ferguson, Miss Bell, Mrs. Wilson, Miss Aretta Bishop, and Miss Audrey Kerr.

Brooks Police Officer Dies As Result of Shooting Accident

Inspector From Neglected Children's Department Accidentally Shoots Constable F. H. Sissons

Constable Frank H. Sissons, Alberta Provincial Police, was stationed at Brooks, and was accidentally shot by a fellow officer of the Department of Neglected Children, of the Provincial Government was examining a .22 high power rifle when it exploded. The bullet struck through the unfortunate constable's brain and he died an hour later. The accident happened at the home of C.T. Fuston, near Duchesne.

The two men had come to Fuston's to investigate the case of three neglected children. Mr. and Mrs. Fuston had had domestic trouble and separated. Fuston was later charged with arson and is in Calgary jail awaiting trial. A tenant endeavored to look after the three little children but a report was sent to Calgary that they were neglected and the two officers were sent out. Inspector Brooke told The Mail the following account of the accident.

"When we entered the Fuston home the three children were on the bed and I took a butcher knife from one. I saw an open drawer and two rifles lying in it. I took them out and he came in and started examining them. I tried to work the mechanism but it jammed. Constable Sissons came around in front of me while I had the rifle in my hand and just then it went off. The bullet hit him in the temple and he dropped dead unconscious. I saw I could do nothing for him in the way of dressing the wound and got in the auto and hurried to the nearest neighbors and had them telephone for Dr. Moore, of Duchesne and Dr. Anderson of Brooks. Dr. Moore got there first and did what he could but poor Sissons died in a few minutes."

Inspector Brooke was terribly broken up over the sad affair. He and Sissons had done a lot of work together and were close friends. Only three little children, the oldest 7 years, saw the accident.

A woman and a little boy are left to mourn the young officer. He was an Australian by birth and had lived two years in Brooks.

An inquest will be held today (Thursday) in Brooks.

Corporal Wright was notified of the accident soon after it happened and with Rev. Mr. Lyttle, drove to the scene. The shooting occurred at 11 a. m., and death followed in about an hour and a half.

INDIANS VERY POOR AT COAL MINING

The Indians assist in refusing to renew the lease of the coal mine to Bassano has caused a lot of dissatisfaction in town and the Blackfeet may not find coal mining as profitable as they expected. They say they mine coal practically runs the product and there will not be much Indian coal bought in Bassano this year.

Boy Babies Are Plentiful Now

Six of Them Born in a Row at Hospital

This is "boy week" at the hospital. Six births recorded there were all boy babies. Not a single girl baby intervened to break the run. Since the farmers' government got in power things have been better regulated, but the run in boys threatens to upset the balance once again.

Bassano Given Very Bad Rep.

Complainant in Assault Case Says This is Tough Town

Mrs. Anna Peterson, of Husar, says Bassano is a tough town. She gave this evidence in the course of the hearing of a charge of indecent assault preferred by her against a farmer of the Husar district. The plaintiff said she lived in Bassano at one time and became so disgusted with the town that she left and went to the Calgary Y.W.C.A.

The preliminary hearing before Judge J. H. Macdonald, private and a remand for a week granted at the conclusion of the hearing.

F. S. Sellwood, of Calgary, prosecuted and Robt. McLean acted for the defence.

OBITUARY

Mrs. L. E. Munson

On Thursday, Sept. 1, at 5:45 p. m., Christie, wife of L. E. Munson, of town, passed away, after a lengthy illness. She came to Bassano to fall from Swift Current, when her husband was transferred by the Canadian Pacific railway, and since then has made many warm friends here. Her death is deeply regretted and the sorrowing husband and children will sorely miss her.

Mrs. Munson was born at Lulu, Michigan, on July 1, 1871. She was married Oct. 25, 1891, to Orono, Michigan, and in 1907 the family left for Detroit to reside. Afterwards they resided at Spokane, and then to the present home at Current in 1916. Besides the beloved husband, the following children survive: Eva Munson, at Almira, Wash.; Mrs. Vera Sissons, Wallace, Idaho; Mrs. Thelma Shaw, Minot, North Dakota, and one son, Marshall, at home. A sister of deceased lives in Nebraska and a brother in Detroit.

Deceased was a woman of splendid Christian character and she endured her long illness with great patience and resignation. She just recently returned from a visit to her home where she had been in the hospital, and seemed much improved in health.

The funeral was held on Sunday at 2 p. m., Rev. Mr. Lyttle conducting the services. Interment was made in Bassano cemetery.

Aubrey Evans returned from Winnipeg this week where he went with the Wild West show run by Nelson Irvine. The show encountered much luck in bookings and broke up in Winnipeg.

Lorne Webster of Gleichen spent Labor Day in town. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police went to attend school.

Pandora Holds A Good Fair

Very Satisfactory Exhibition Held Last Friday

Pandora's famous fair was held on Friday last and the day was marked by splendid weather and a jolly crowd from far and wide. The exhibits were up to the mark of former years and the fine exhibition hall was a sight to behold, containing an array of exhibits that would do credit to any fair. The ladies take a great interest in this fair and they were there strong with fanciful and cooking. The vegetables were good, too, and testified to careful gardening on the part of the exhibitors. Sheep, cattle, and horses were shown in considerable numbers. Art Stewart had his splendid sheep on exhibition and they called forth many complimentary remarks.

The crowd in attendance at the fair was not as large as in former years, owing to adverse crop conditions. President Hugh Nestor, Secretary Larry Helmer and the balance of the energetic staff of the fair were present. They are making plans for a banner fair next year and if a kind Providence provides a little rain in that region next crop season, they'll have to enlarge the fair grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Macdonald, of the fair grounds, was keenly contested. Patricia fair chipped in a day ahead of the Pandora event and many horses were shown in the past made it a practise of running them at the Pandora fair, had been in the races at Patricia and could make the long journey across country in time for the races the following day. A little co-operation in fixing the date will help both the fair and would be a step in the right direction. There is no reason for the holding of the fair within a day or two of each other in one neighborhood.

Teague's, a racehorse owned by Billy McCarragher, of the Duchesne district, cleaned up in the blue ribbon event, the free-for-all House of Commons man from the north, was his keenest competitor, and actually won a heat, but Teague got away to a big lead in the final heat and Miss Gladys Stauffer, who has won an enviable reputation as a rider in the district, brought the horse home well in the lead.

Van Housen won the saddle horse race, which was featuring Billy McCarragher, on Roy Dowell's horse, cutting corners in an attempt to make a stretch race of it. Billy had a good run but he had never ridden worse than second on the Pandora track and never intended that he would. Van Housen also won the stake race and the relay event.

The dance at night was a merry affair. Moran's orchestra played the night long and they created as favorable impression as ever.

Gordon A. Forster, member for the Hand Hills riding in the provincial legislature, was on the job as usual. He has always taken a big part in directing the fair.

Pandora Fair Notes

Frederick Kolb, Johnson, the druggist, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. and Mrs. Tasker were down from Hanna for the fair.

J. W. Winning, mayor of Cenford, was present as usual. W. J. never misses a fair or a chance to talk politics.

Stella Hall, the genial and hospitable proprietor of Steveville village, was among those present. Robert Knox, laird of Steveville, was also on hand. Dr. W. J. Anderson, sheep king, left his flocks and herds long enough to spend the afternoon at Pandora. He told us a yarn about one of his herders which will adorn the pages of The Mail at a later date.

The Gerding was bartender at the refreshment booth, and his long reach came in handy. The man who stole the cheese purchased by the editor of The Mail was also on hand. (Continued on Editorial page)

Not as Wise as the Squirrels

The Bolshevik Lack of Foresight in Providing for the Future.

What Secretary Hughes has described as the greatest misfortune of the Bolsheviks is the lack of foresight of the Bolsheviks in Russia has continued, and they have arrived at the present appalling tragedy. The consequences, unacceptably forced upon the conditions that were artificially established. Lenin's policy was to give to the land of the squirrel which stores against the future. Lack of rain precipitated the famine, but the cause lies elsewhere. Bolshevik reduced production to the verge of extinction, and there was no reserve when nature turned back. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR AUGUST 24.

PAUL PREPARES FOR WORLD CONQUEST.

I. The Controversy in the Church at Antioch, chaps. 1-13.

This difficulty was a most serious one, for it threatened the disruption of the church into Jewish and Gentile divisions.

The question was, "Shall Gentile converts be required to keep the Mosaic law as a condition of salvation?" The brethren at Antioch were divided on the subject.

The question was so difficult that Paul and Barnabas were unable to put the matter to rest. They decided to write a letter to the brethren at Jerusalem, asking them to settle the question.

The letter was written by Paul and Barnabas, and it was a most important document. It was the first time that the church had written a letter to another church.

LESSON FOR AUGUST 24.

PAUL PREPARES FOR WORLD CONQUEST.

I. The Controversy in the Church at Antioch, chaps. 1-13.

This difficulty was a most serious one, for it threatened the disruption of the church into Jewish and Gentile divisions.

The question was, "Shall Gentile converts be required to keep the Mosaic law as a condition of salvation?" The brethren at Antioch were divided on the subject.

The question was so difficult that Paul and Barnabas were unable to put the matter to rest. They decided to write a letter to the brethren at Jerusalem, asking them to settle the question.

The Doctor As Teacher

First Qualification Is Learning To Value Humanity.

The doctor is in some ways very closely allied to the teacher, and his patients often hold him in a regard which has little counterpart except that of pupil for master. It is incumbent upon him, then, to learn and value the worth of humanity. That is the first qualification. After that, the doctor must have the instruments of health, and must learn to discover the earliest shadow of disease which falls upon the body. If that fundamental attitude is secure, the rest, the precise methods of diagnosis, the laboratory work, is needed that it is always well to have a car that may be adapted for various uses. The wrap is made of heavy cloth, with trimmings of blue or grey. The shoes are in one with the rest of the coat and they are distinguished by three white cuffs. The shoes are slightly bluish in the front, but are drawn simply to the feet. The doctor is the teacher. The doctor is the teacher. The doctor is the teacher.

There are so many reasons for the summer when a handsome wrap is needed that it is always well to have a car that may be adapted for various uses. FEDERAL ELECTION

Premier Meighen has given up his "watchful waiting" policy and decided upon an immediate election. Before the end of the year the voting will be held and the party selected who will guide Canada's destiny for the next governmental term.

There are three great parties contesting this election: the Conservative party, in the suite of Unionists, the Liberal party, and the National Progressives, or Farmers party. Premier Meighen leads the Conservatives, W. L. Mackenzie King the Liberals, and T. A. Crerar the Farmers.

The three prairie provinces will undoubtedly go solid for the National Progressive party. There has been a constantly growing feeling that the west has been discriminated against in the workings of the major policies of the government. High freight rates, and high prices for agricultural machinery, together with low prices for farm produce have caused dissatisfaction and unrest. The Farmer's organization has been welded into a strong political phalanx (winning the defeat of the Stewart government) and they are determined to change matters at Ottawa.

British Columbia, favoring a protective tariff, will most likely give the Conservative party a majority. Mr. King has not defined the Liberal party's policy on the tariff very definitely, and the fruit growers will not be likely to take a chance upon him.

The maritime provinces take their politics strenuously, and although the farmers have a political organization there, it does not compare in compactness with the solid front presented by western agriculturists. Conservatives and Liberals are likely to get an even break there with the Farmers third in the running.

Quebec will go solid Liberal unless the world comes to an end. Of the sixty seats in that province, the Conservatives may get one, St. Anne's in Montreal.

Ontario is the puzzle and will probably swing the election. Usually strongly Conservative owing to desire for high protection to encourage the budding industries that are making cities out of country towns, old Ontario may rally to Meighen strongly. On the other hand Premier Duff, the former leader of Ontario's government, may have his forces well in hand and throw a nice majority to Crerar's assistance.

It is quite possible that neither of the parties will have a majority when the votes are counted and an interesting situation will be the result.

HAY PRICES REMAIN AT SAME LEVEL

During the past week hay has been moving more freely but nothing in the present conditions warrant much of a flurry says the Market Examiner.

Hay is still selling around $14@16 at country points with a price on timothy of $20@22, the top quotations being for hay close to Calgary and which can be shipped immediately.

simply marking time, and are not making any offers at stated prices, but from the inquir-

School Fair Plans

Now Complete

Plans are under way to make Friday, Sept. 16th, a day to be remembered by the children of the district.

That is the day of the school fair and many school children are exhibiting fruits of their care and labor.

The fair is to be held in the curling rink and a splendid program of sports will be held.
Earl Beck, the secretary, is very optimistic about the fair.
He has planned for a parade of students from the various schools and the Bassano band and school cadets will lead the procession.

A. F. McCallum is organizing transportation for the children residing at Gem, Latham, Rosemary, and Countess. Cars will be provided to bring them to town and return.

The subscription contest ends Sept. 16th and the competitors should make every effort to obtain subscriptions from now on. Next a day should be lost. Many who do not take The Mail need only to be asked and they will cheerfully respond. Don't relax your efforts, boys and girls and you will be well repaid. Turn in your lists regularly to E. A.
Beck, Bassano.

On Sept. 15 applications for naturalization from the following persons will be dealt with at the court sittings here:
Chas. W. Jones, of Gem; Victor Bertrand, of Milo, and Jakub Rudnicki of Make-peace.

Wm. Tegerdine and family of Standard spent a day in town. Bill says Standard is a busy little town these days.

Monday and Tuesday night the Gem theatre is featuring a splendid Fox super - special

"The Honor System". This reel picture comes heralded as a masterpiece and it is well worth seeing.

A Detector Of Carelessness

Machine Registers Bumps and Knocks Given to Freight in Transit.

Rough handling of freight in railway cars or in transit gives rise to many claims by shippers. In some districts this damage is reckoned as costing from 25 to 30 per cent. of all claims for damages. Railroad managers have wrestled with the problem, which is difficult because it is so hard to trace the carelessness to any one train crew.

Now, however, an instrument has been devised to detect the time and place of damage done to moving freight. It is called an "impact register" and has been made the subject of extensive tests by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. The machine is constructed on the principle of the seismograph, and when placed in a box car will record the time of each shock and also the intensity. By this means the management is able to prove exactly when and where, for example, the reckless switching of freight cars was done.

Our morals may not be improving, but our skill in inventing methods to expose bad morals certainly shows no signs of flagging.—The New York Times.

Oldest Bell In Western World

Taken From Spanish Monastery Bells Date 803 A.D.

The oldest bell in North America—or, in fact, in the world—is the bell of the small village of East Haddam, Conn., which stands a few yards from the famous schoolhouse at Nahant, Mass.

The bell is of bronze, and is believed to be taken from an ancient Spanish monastery. The bell probably came to America as part of a ship's ballast, or as junk. At any rate, this particular bell was purchased from a junk dealer in New York City.

The age of the bell, however, is doubtful. It is of bronze, and of a greenish color. It is not cracked, and will still resound. It is not used, but it is not used.

It is not used, but it is not used. It is not used, but it is not used. It is not used, but it is not used.

World Happenings Briefly Told

Lake Huron has the curious record of having more islands than any other lake.

The censor refuses to permit the tabling of extracts of articles printed in Madrid newspapers. The telephone of news also is forbidden.

The death of Lieutenant-General Lionel H. Clarke at Toronto caused the second vacant lieutenant-governorship in Canada.

During the seven years of commercial operation of the Panama Canal ending Aug. 14 last, 13416 commercial vessels made the transit through the isthmus according to the records.

Normal Schools of Manitoba will provide six hundred teachers for the province at sessions to be held this fall. Four hundred, it is expected, will be given permanent certificates and 200 will be given temporary.

The all-Russia relief committee formed recently with Maxim Gorky and representatives of various parties as members, has been dissolved, and the members will not get along with the interests of Russian relief, as has been anticipated.

A farmer in touch with the dairy industry living near Brockville, expressed the opinion that the farmers of that section would not winter more than fifty per cent. of their present herds. He based his prediction on the shortage of hay.

Following a meeting of the German cabinet, President Ebert issued a decree prohibiting meetings, processions, demonstrations and the publication of periodicals and pamphlets intended to encourage seditious movements.

Convicts who dealt in spurious money became a laughing stock at Sing Sing prison here. They were to play their trade behind prison walls, it was learned when it developed that prisoners testing $1400 had been forged by prisoners assigned to office duty.

PAUL IN ATHENS

I. The Idolatry of the Athenians (v. 16).

Athens was the intellectual metropolis of the world at that time, the home of the world's great eloquence and philosophy. Paul's visit, was stirred within him when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry.

II. The Dialects Contrasted (vv. 17-21).

True to his usual custom Paul went into the Jewish synagogue and entered into earnest argument with the Jews. From them he turned to such as were found in the market place. Here he came into touch with the Epicureans and Stoics, philosophers. The former were atheistic materialists. They denied the doctrine of God. They gave themselves up to animal indulgence. They had no idea of future judgment. The latter were pantheists. They believed the presence of God in all things. They were quick to see what this "babbling" meant. The word "babblers" (v. 23).

III. Paul's Address on Mars' Hill (vv. 23-31).

The introduction (vv. 23, 25) of the word "philosophy" is an admirable addition to the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman. This model is not from a very fine piece of navy blue serge. It shows the dropped armhole which insures comfort as well as preserving the contour of the dress.

Gluten Flour

Its Use and Characteristics Explained in Government Bulletin

Nearly all of the so-called gluten flours offered to the public are not gluten flours. Such is the frank statement made by Dr. C. E. Saunders, the Dominion Cerealist, in a bulletin entitled "Wheat, Flour and Bread." The bulletin is a reprint of material from the Dominion Cerealist, in the name of Dr. Saunders, is entirely misleading, as these flours contain a high percentage of starch and are quite unsuitable for diabetic patients.

As a rule the gluten flours offered for sale are practically identical with the whole wheat and Graham flours. Genuine gluten flour, which is made by washing the starch out of wheat flour and then drying and grinding, is extremely expensive. Ordinary bread has no resemblance to gluten bread and as a substitute for such an imposture. Rather less than 50 per cent. of genuine gluten flour can be mixed with flour of the highest quality of medium quality to make a good loaf.

Gluten flour can also be used in the production of pan-cakes, biscuits and other products provided it be mixed with ordinary flour. Thin, fine shorts or ground nuts, together with eggs, milk, baking powder, etc. There is, however, no possibility of producing any form of palatable bread, biscuit or cake with a large proportion of pure gluten flour. Dr. Saunders suggests that physicians would be well advised to take cognizance of these facts and not to expect their patients to purchase what is impossible or to try to make it indigestible. The bulletin might be reprinted, not thoroughly into its subject, treating in all its places.

The Last Link With Franklin

Reminiscences of Gallant Seneca Who Braved Arctic Perils.

The other day at Hull, there died at the great age of ninety-seven, a captain, Richard Tether, who was the last link with those active Arctic explorations in search of the remains of Franklin's party, every searching expedition bringing reports of importance to geographical science. Tether's death is the occasion of a looking backward to the search for a northwest passage to the Pacific, especially to Sir John Franklin's last expedition and to the expeditions for his relief, and later for the purpose of discovering what happened to the "Erebus" and the "Terror" and their gallant heroes.

Franklin is an Arctic hero of a singularly heroic maritime age and his name is associated with Canada's northward on two counts. In 1819, on his first arctic journey from Hudson's Bay to the mouth of the Coppermine River, he wintered on the shore of the Arctic Ocean. It was at Cumberland House that he taught the lad, William Kennedy, psalms and hymns, and left him with aspirations for the North-West Territories.

Max Gamble's car stalled at the silent policeman in front of the postoffice and he got out to crank it. By ill fortune he left the gears in reverse and the car shot back against the postoffice flag pole. The impact broke the cement base of the pole and the Union Jack had a decided list until Wm. Bramley, postoffice caretaker, repaired the trouble.
